CME overview

Psychodermatology integrates dermatology with psychiatry to treat skin conditions influenced by psychological factors. In this CME, the Psychodermatology Association of India (PDAI) brings together insightful talks from eminent dermatologists and psychiatrists to discuss the psychodermatological aspects across all age groups. Stress in adolescents, low self-esteem due to aging of the skin during the mid-life, and challenges in the management of comorbidities and cutaneous changes in the elderly. The attendees shall develop a better understanding of the basics of psychodermatology as well as help spread awareness about this important connecting bridge between the specialties of Dermatology and Psychiatry.
